If you would like to make a designation donation (e.g., for the new award to support underrepresented students), please indicate this in the memo line of your check or in the electronic payment you send. Any amount donated in excess of your annual dues will then be designated for the fund you indicate.

2021 Award Winners

Congratulations to our SIG member Award Winners in 2022!

Awards	Winners
Lifetime Achievement Award	Mary Larimer, University of Washington
Marlatt Memorial Research Award	Anka Vujanovic, University of Houston
Outstanding Student Poster Award	Melissa Schick, University of Rhode Island

Call for Nominations – Deadline Sept. 2, 2022

G. Alan Marlatt Mid-Career Research Award

The G. Alan Marlatt Mid-Career Research Award is generously sponsored by Drs. Mark and Linda Sobell. It celebrates the tradition established by Dr. G. Alan Marlatt in his distinguished career as a pioneer and innovator in cognitive-behavioral therapy and research on addictive behaviors. It is given annually to a member of our SIG who received their doctoral degree between 4 and 12 years prior to receiving the award, who has conducted a program of research in the field of addiction psychology demonstrating substantial scientific rigor. This research can focus on understanding mechanisms of addiction or advancing evidence-based clinical practice in the addictions. Research that addresses harm reduction or treatment innovations would be particularly consistent with Dr. Marlatt’s research emphasis, but such a focus is not a requirement for the award. Award recipients receive a cash prize of $500 and a plaque. Submit current CV and letter of recommendation in the portal below.

Early Career Award

The Addictive Behaviors SIG Early Career Award is given to an early career ABCT Addictive Behaviors SIG member who has made a major contribution to the field of addictive behaviors within 7 years of receiving their terminal degree. This award is given every other (even) year to an individual who has impacted our field as a researcher, educator, clinician, and/or scholar. Now is time to honor emerging excellence! Award recipients receive a plaque commemorating their achievement and are invited to give a 30 minute presentation on their program of research at the annual SIG meeting.

Underrepresented Student Travel Award

The Addictive Behaviors SIG offers travel awards up to $250 to students that are underrepresented in the biomedical, clinical, behavioral, and social sciences as defined by the Department of Health and Human Services, including students from disadvantaged backgrounds, who are interested in addictions research and practice. Priority will be given to students (1) who have never attended the convention, (2) who are presenting at the convention, and (3) who have no other funds available to them. Award funds may be requested to cover costs related to: (1) ABCT membership (currently $84); (2) ABCT student conference registration (currently $140); (3) presenting (e.g., poster printing); and/or (4) travel associated with attending the ABCT convention. Applications should include the following:

- (1) the student's name;
- (2) current enrollment status (undergraduate vs. graduate, year in program);
- (3) name of faculty mentor (if applicable);
- (4) a statement of how many times the student has attended ABCT;
- (5) a description of the presentation type and title the student will be giving at ABCT in the year applying (if applicable);
- (6) the type and amount of support requested, along with acknowledgement of any other funds being received (e.g., funds from ABCT; funds from the student's college or university; reimbursement being provided by a faculty mentor's grant or a grant directly to the student).

Outstanding Student Poster Award

This award is given every year to an undergraduate, post-baccalaureate, or graduate student whose first-author poster demonstrates excellence in advancing research on addictive behaviors. Award recipients receive a certificate commemorating their achievement and $20 toward the purchase of a frame of their choosing. No nomination is needed. The awardee is chosen from among first-author student SIG posters that are accepted for presentation.

AWARD NOMINATION INSTRUCTIONS:

Please consider nominating a deserving addictions professional for these awards. Self-nominations are welcome. Nominations will be reviewed and voted on by a committee of Addictive Behaviors SIG members. Submit your nomination(s) by Friday, September 2, 2022 here:

The AB-SIG recognizes the cost of membership can be prohibitive, particularly for students and early career researchers. Therefore, first authors are no longer required to be a member of ABCT and the Addictive Behaviors SIG prior to submitting their poster abstract for consideration! However, first authors (and, in the case of undergraduate students, post- baccalaureates, or graduate students, their faculty or postdoc advisor/mentor/research supervisor on the project described in the poster) will still be required to become members of ABCT and the Addictive Behaviors SIG following notification of acceptance. Membership status in ABCT must be confirmed following notification of abstract selection by sending documentation (e.g., the receipt generated when purchasing/renewing your membership) to the SIG leader. Student members of Addictive Behaviors SIG for free, but only if they are already ABCT members. Student members of ABCT wishing to be considered Addictive Behaviors SIG members for this year’s conference should email me at Rashc@uchc.edu, so that I can add your name and email to our membership roll. If you are a professional or postdoctoral member of the Addictive Behaviors SIG who wishes to pay their dues, see payment information above.

Important Notes
Abstracts = Max 250 words.

Please include current contact information so we can let you know whether the review committee has accepted your poster.
